Planning a wedding can be very exciting, but I appreciate choosing a team of suppliers to bring all your ideas together can also be overwhelming. Wedding photography is one of the most important investments you will make, after all, photographic memories will last a lifetime and beyond. I've been a bride and I understand the importance of getting it right.

I have based my wedding photography packages on what most couples typically require, but if you don't see what you are looking for please do let me know so we can create a bespoke package.

Do We Need A Second Photographer?

Sometimes couples feel they need more than one photographer to capture their day. This is usually because they worry that important moments will be missed.

Here's why I believe one photographer is enough.

Before the day I'll ask you for a list of group shots, and this ensures all your most important friends and family will be photographed.

I'm all about being unobtrusive so that I can capture really natural moments. Being a single photographer means I can mingle (and chat a little) with guests throughout the day, capturing authentic candid moments. I will often go unnoticed! I also have full artistic control over the look and feel of your collection.

It's really about planning and timings and knowing exactly what you want from your photography. Unless you are inviting more than 200 guests, or perhaps want bride and groom prep photographed at the same time miles apart, one photographer really is enough.

How To Book

If you would like to book me to document your day, please let me know as soon as possible as availability can change, especially during busy enquiry periods. To book your date I require a deposit of £500 (non refundable) and the completion of my wedding booking form and agreement. Your final balance is due 4 weeks before your wedding.

Why Book Me?

I'm completely dedicated to documenting all aspects of your wedding day and producing a timeless collection of images that will evoke powerful memories for the rest of your life. I'm a 'people person' and will blend in with your guests to capture unobtrusive natural moments that you might otherwise miss. With over 12 years' experience, I'm a safe pair of hands!

I can offer advice regarding timings, as well as recommending other great suppliers I've worked with over the years. After you book, I'll send you my advice booklet so that you have everything you need when planning your day to make the most of your photography.

We'll chat before your wedding and go over timings and any special requests you may have. On the day I'll have my schedule and I'll know exactly where you need me to be and what's expected. I won't need to interrupt the flow of your day and I'll work to get all the shots you want without delaying the schedule.

Oh, and I won't shout at your guests! Perish the thought! I've been a bride and I know how important it is to find the right photographer, so get in touch and let's talk.
